Patty Brard : latest news

* Patty and her lover (architect Antoine van de Vijver) must leave the apartment they rent in Amsterdam. The couple wasn't satisfied with the flat and paid only 40% of the rent. The court decided that the diva and her fiancé had to go away before the end of the year. The construction of the house of Patty and Antoine in Amstelveen is not finished yet. So they have to find a new accommodation as soon as possible.

* Patty supports Dutch popstar Marco Borsato who suffers from the bankruptcy of his company (The Entertainment Group, a concert promoter). The Luv' singer and TV star knows exactly what it feels like to go bankrupt as she lost all her possessions in December 1993 because of the failure of her magazine "Hello/Brard". It took her years to recover. Source: SBS 6 Shownieuws/ De Telegraaf

Luv' to appear on K2 zoekt K3

news posted on September 23rd 2009

Flashback: Luv' and K3 in 2006

Luv' will be performing on the finale of K2 zoekt K3 (the talent show to search for the new member of Flemish girl group K3) on October 3rd. Patty is in the jury of this programme which is aired on two channels (at 8.00 pm on Saturdays on SBS 6 in the Netherlands and on Sundays on VTM in Belgium). When Luv' was very busy with their comeback in 2006, they appeared with K3 on the same TV show ("Tien om te zien") on VTM. The two female pop formations have often been compared with each other but I don't agree with it. Luv' are ladies and K3 are just girls who only attract children. Patty, José and Marga were sex symbols during their heyday thirty years ago. Their career as recording artists was shorter than K3 but more intense. They were a successful export act as they sang songs in English whereas K3 popularity is limited to Benelux because of their hits performed in Dutch.
