Patty Brard Vs Viola Holt - news posted on October 3rd 2008

Viola Holt: uninteresting for the TV channels!!!

The media like when they can shed light on the rivalry between female celebrities. That's what has recently happened with Patty Brard and Viola Holt. In a recent interview in AD (Algemeen Dagblad), the Shownieuws presenter and her SBS 6 colleague (Gerard Joling) have strongly criticized Holt. According to the duet of the high rated game show "Wie Ben Ik?", the relationship between Holt and Bonnie St. Claire (as they appeared in early 2007 in a TV docusoap) was fake. La Brard added that she is still active on TV whereas Holt isn't, though both of them are mature personalities. It's not the first time that Patty has opponents in showbiz. In the past, she expressed disapproval of The Dolly Dots, Patricia Paay, Chazia Mourali and José Hoebee (before their reconciliation in 2005 to reform Luv').

The blonde Luv' singer, who appeared in a recent article published in the celebrity gossip magazine "Party", was interviewed on October 1st in "Schiffers.fm", a programme on AVRO/Radio 2. The subject of this radio show was the 50th anniversary of Nederpop (Pop music produced in the Netherlands). Because Luv' is part of the story of Dutch music, Marga Scheide was asked to tell her impressions of the career of the girl group. She also said that when the female trio was very popular in the late 1970's, it was hard to protect her privacy. She felt that people were spying on her. Fortunately, the Luv' ladies have fun today when they perform.

Patty Brard: Worst Female TV Host Award - news posted on October 9th 2008

Patty has won the "Lelijk Ding (Ugly Thing) Veronica Magazine Award" in the category "Worst Female TV Host". La Brard has refused to accept this prize. Though she is widely criticized by the public and in the press, the TV shows in which she appeared in 2008 (De Nieuwe Uri Geller, Ranking the Stars, Wie Ben Ik?) were high in the ratings. It seems there's a "love/hate" relationship between the diva and the viewers.

Viola Holt strikes back!!!! - news posted on October 10th 2008

The fight between Patty Brard and Viola Holt (see news on October 3rd 2008) goes on. Viola told Story (a Dutch celebrity gossip magazine) that Patty is hypocritical. According to Holt, the Luv' diva is jealous of her. She said: "With her presentation of Shownieuws, she can't experience what I've done during my career. Maybe is she dreaming of it?"

La Brard answered: "I meant that Viola must remain herself. Look at me, I'm also fat but look what I've accomplished. I don't hate Viola. On the contrary: I think she's a brilliant interviewer.

Patty wants Viola to participate in Wie Ben Ik? (the popular game show on SBS 6) but will it happen?

Patty Brard and Patricia Paay: forced collaboration - news posted on October 16th 2008

Patricia Paay has recently been the guest on "Wie Ben Ik?", the game show featuring Patty Brard as team captain. It's common knowledge that the two divas are enemies. Their rivalry started in 2003 when the two celebrities had their own reality TV show. Now they both work on SBS 6: Paay is jury member on Popstars whereas Patty presents Shownieuws and takes part in Wie Ben Ik? That's why they've been forced by their channel to appear together in the game show (which is broadcast on Saturday at 9:55 PM). The celebrity gossip magazine, Weekend, has published an article about this event in its latest issue.

Wie Ben Ik?: ratings on October 18th - news posted on October 19th 2008

Yesterday's broadcast of "Wie Ben Ik?" on SBS 6 was watched by 1 114 000 viewers (market share: 18.3%). The ratings are still acceptable even there's a decline in comparison with the previous shows. There are two reasons for this slight decrease. On the one hand, the programme was scheduled half an hour later than usual (at 9.55 PM). On the other hand, competition with other channels (Nederland 1 and RTL 4) is intense.

Fortunately, the public couldn't notice the tension between Patty Brard and Patricia Paay (see news posted on October 16th). At the end of the programme, while Gerard Joling was singing his latest hit, Patty did the splits (her trademark since her funny performance in Sterren Dansen Op Het Ijs).

José Hoebee to write a column on Benny Neyman's official site - news posted on October 19th 2008

José Hoebee will soon write a column on Benny Neyman's official website. Neyman was a great Dutch singer who passed away in February. José was one of his friends in showbiz. She was of course utterly devastated when he died. Will Hoebee (José's husband) produced some of his biggest hits (like the #1 single Waarom Fluister Ik Je Naam in 1985). Other celebrities are also expected to write columns evoking memories of the late artist.

Patty Brard gets her own magazine - news posted on October 23rd 2008

The "enfant terrible" of Luv', Patty Brard, has recently been approached by Telegraaf Tijdschriften Groep (part of Telegraaf Media Groep N.V., the largest Dutch media and publishing company) to launch her own magazine. A single issue, in association with the celebrity gossip mag "Privé", is planned for the moment. It's not the first time that the Shownieuws presenter is involved in a publication. In late 1992, the TV diva had already started a magazine: "Hello/Brard". Due to poor sales and a bad accountancy, it flopped then and Patty went bankrupt.
